Something For Nothing.

To get something for nothing is rather a hard proposition, but we offer you the Live Stock Inspector, the subscription price of which is $1.00 per year (and worth every cent of it); and the Weekly Leader, subscription price 50 cent per year (and cheap at that); both papers one year for only $1.00. This is certainly full value for the money, but, in addition, each number of the Live Stock Inspector will contain, beginning at an early date, absolutely without extra cost to you, a "magazine supplement," containing excellent serial and short stories, of equal interest with those published in the popular magazines. This supplement will, alone, afford you a dollars' worth of entertaining reading.

Remember the Live Stock Inspector is the only stock paper published on the range and that it captured a grand prize at the Paris exposition. Sample copies sent on request.

Marion Kooke, manager for T. M. Thompson, a large importer of fine millinery at 1655 Milwaukee avenue, Chicago, says: "During the late severe weather I caught a dreadful cold which kept me awake at night and made me unfit to attend my work during the day. One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. It acted like magic and I began to improve at once. I am now entirely well and feel very pleased to acknowledge its merits." For sale by C. R. Rentro, druggist.

The reserve sale for the "Fannie Hill Company" is now on. Secure your seats early.

The Leader has no complimentary list. The subscription price in the city is 50 cents a month; 15 cents a week, or 5 cents a copy.

HOW MURPHY CLOSED

THE TOWN.

The Dialogue That Took Place Between the Police and the Gambler.

A man connected with the Committee of Fifteen called on Justice Jerome yesterday and told him that the method of procedure of the 150 detectives sent out by Police Commissioner Murphy to find if there were any illegal resorts in town was this:

The detective called at a gambling house before noon. A doortender confronted him.

"Call the proprietor," said the detective. The proprietor came.

"You've got to move out!" declared the sleuth.

"Now, pish and tush, and tut, tut!" replied the proprietor.

"No, there's no pish, and tush and tut, tut about it," said the detective.

"This is straight: you've got until 3 o'clock to get your gambling apparatus out."

The detective—on his feet and returned at 3 o'clock.

"How about it?" he asked the proprietor.

"All moved out," chorried the latter.

Whereupon the detective returned to M. Murphy, reporting no vice in town.—New York Sun.

He Had Just Stepped Out.

The boys who run elevators in hotels and great office buildings come into contact with all manner and conditions of men, and even if naturally dull they soon become bright. The better a judge of human nature, the better the employee is the rule. Here is an instance of tact that could hardly be surpassed. A lady came bustling along to an elevator just as it was going up, and said, with charming innocence: "I want to see a man whose name I do not know, and I do not know, either, what office he is employed in." A less experienced elevator boy might have laughed outright at this speech, but this one never cracked a smile. "I am well acquainted with the gentleman you refer to," was his instant reply, "and he has just gone out." The lady thanked him, and walked away seemingly very well satisfied with the information she had received.

A Knight Templar Praises Peruna

And Says: "I am Better Than I Have Been for Twenty Years."

Colonel T. P. Moody, a prominent Knight Templar, is well known in every city in the United States west of Buffalo, N. Y., as a Jeweler's Auctioneer. In the city of Chicago as a prominent lodge man, being a member of the K. T. J. and also of the Masons. The cut shows Colonel Moody in the costume of the Oriental Consistory Masons, 32d degree.

In a recent letter from 609 Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill., Mr. Moody says the following:

"For over twenty-five years I suffered from catarrh, and for over ten years I suffered from catarrh of the stomach terribly."

"I have taken all kinds of medicines and have been treated by all kinds of doctors, as thousands of my acquaintances are aware in different parts of the United States, where I have traveled, but my relief was only temporary, until a little over a year ago I started to take Peruna, and at the present time I am better than I have been for twenty years."

"The soreness has left my stomach entirely and I am free from indigestion and dyspepsia and will say to all who are troubled with catarrh or stomach trouble of any kind, don't put it off and suffer, but begin to take Peruna right away, and keep it up until you are cured, as you surely will be if you persevere."

"My wife, as many in the southwest can say, was troubled with a bad cough and bronchial trouble, and doctors all over the country gave her up to die, as they could do nothing more for her. She began taking Peruna with the result that she is better now than she has been in years, and her cough has almost left her entirely. The soreness has left her lungs and she is as well as she ever was in her life, with thanks, as she says, to Peruna. Yours very truly, T. P. Moody.

Catarrh assumes many forms and attacks many organs. Colonel Moody had catarrh of the stomach, while his wife had catarrh of the lungs. Both were cured by Peruna, simply because catarrh is catarrh, wherever located. It may attack one organ or another. It may be chronic or acute. It may cause one a slight inconvenience or great suffering. Diseases that catarrh sets up are cured by various names but they are all in reality catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for a free book on catarrh.

Colonel T. P. Moody, of Chicago.

TENEBRAE AND FEAST

OBLIGATORY.

Sir Knight:—It is with pleasure that I comply with the requirement of calling the members of Guthrie Chapter Rose Croix, No. 1, to convene at the Masonic temple in the city of Guthrie, for the eleventh time in its history, to an observance of the duty that we, as Knights Rose Croix, should at all times sacredly and affectionately remember.

This chapter will, on Thursday evening, the 16th day of the Hebrew month Nisan, 5661, which answers to the 4th day of April, 1901, at 7:30 o'clock p. m. in the banquet hall of the Masonic temple, Guthrie, celebrate the mystic banquet of the Paschal lamb and observe the ancient ceremony of extinguishing the lights, as prescribed and made obligatory by the statutes of the rite for Maundy Thursday. Each Knight Rose Croix is expected and is in duty bound to observe this solemn rite, sickness or other unavoidable hindrance only excuses a Knight Rose Croix for non-attendance. Even if a Knight Rose Croix be alone in a place, he must, in spirit at least, feast on Maundy Thursday with his brethren.

All Scottish Rite Masons and all Blue lodge Masons of any degree and their wives, mothers, daughters and sisters are invited to come, and in a fraternal spirit endeavor to profit by the lessons so beautifully and impressively taught in the eighteenth degree. Trusting in you to discharge all these duties as only a Knight Rose Croix can, we salute you with the mysterious numbers and all the knightly honors. Fraternally,

Cassius McDonald Barnes, W. M.

AN AWFUL GAMBLER.

Wanted to be Locked up to Keep Himself From Wasting His Wages.

A young man went into the Elizabeth street police station Saturday night and asked the sergeant to lock him up.

"What for?" he was asked.

"Well, sergeant, I'm an awful gambler. I get my pay Saturday night and every time I gamble till it's all gone. I've got my pay now and if I can be kept away from gambling tonight I can save my money. The dealer only comes Saturday nights."

"But I can't lock you up for that. Where do you live, anyway?"

"On Third street, between Avenue 3 and C. I'm Jacob Waresky."

"That's not in this precinct; it's in the Fifth street station. You go up there and ask them to lock you up."

The gambler started up the Bowery toward Fifth street.—New York Telegraph.
